CLASS WILL

We, the Class of 1939, being of sound mind and memory (although the teachers doubt it), hereby declare this to be our last will and testament.

To the school and undergraduates we leave our share of the recorder provided we are invited as special guests at noon dances.

To the faculty we leave the memory of the largest graduating class of M. H. S.

Our individual bequests (which should be accepted in the very solemn (?) manner in which they are given) are as follows:

"Rusty" Miller wills her red hair to anyone who wants it.

"Dave" Root wills his ability to think about something else in recitation to Jay Einhart.

"Dale" Grim wills her habit of "doodling" to any underclassman so inclined.

"Juicy" Hallock wills his technique of building model airplanes to Duane Todd and Bob Effinger.

"Kitten" Brasch wills her ability to learn French to Gertrude Deiss.

"Greg" Blakeslee wills the opportunity to escort a certain blonde junior girl through the cemetery at noon to Ellison Brooks.

"Katy" Mellert wills her ability to have at least one argument an evening with a Nourse to Mary Virginia Schultz.

"Stuart" Hach wills the privilege of driving his quantitative Packard to Dale Bachtell.

"Normie" Clark wills her ability to pass notes secretly to Paul Hanshue.

"Go-by" Kovic leaves his house plans to Vance Grimes.

"Chappy" Perrin wills her extra ONE pound to any future freshman girl who needs it.

"Charlie" Anderson wills his bashful ways to Elmer Zsarnay.

"Evie" Wilcox wills her home-room library chair to Elmer Selzer.

"Dick" Beard wills his "winning ways" to Harold Schnabel.

"Susie" Seymour wills a first-class ticket booth to Virginia Schelke.

"Bill" Brown bestows upon any Hi-Y member the privilege of escorting the same blonde girl to all Hi-Y parties.

"Sue" Kraus wills her quiet ways to Eldene Hammerschmidt.

"Bud" Hoddinott wills his "knowledge of North Court Street" to Elwood Pincombe.

"Millie" Leyda bequeaths the ability to receive letters from a boy in uniform to anyone who wants it.

"Ken" Ream wills his high-pitched voice to Doris Woods.

"Fernie" Stevens wills her speed and accuracy in typing to Edward Brooks.

"Jim" Anderson wills his ability to skin three skunks and have a date on the same night to "Newt" Betz providing he has the nerve to try it.

"Babs" Heintzelman's hatred of skunks is willed to Dot Phillips providing she can keep "Newt" away from them during hunting season.

"Johnny" Socha wills his excellent 4B English grades to Arthur Warren, so that he may graduate with higher honors.

"Pat" Dean wills her ability to cry at a moment's notice to any undergraduate who will promise to make the proper use of it.

"Diesel Dan" Steingass wills to George Frost the ability to aggravate Miss Phillips by coming to school at 9:45 (or later).

"Slim" Maitland wills her record of making fouls in basketball to Betty Sailer.

"Al" Bartholomay leaves his freedom of speech to Helen Keiper.

"Dolly" Madison wills her embarrassing moments to anyone who wants them.

"Bill" Anderson endows Jo Deibel with his knack of sneaking off unmolested to the diner for coffee and donuts if she will pay her own bill.

"Cheerie" Snedden wills the privilege of playing requested songs in assembly to Joan Hammerschmidt.

"Dick" Longacre wills one serving of spaghetti to anyone who has not recently had his suit cleaned and pressed.

"Flops" Hitzelberger wills her ability to master all subjects to Leonard Frost.

"Hulk" Beery grants his animated personality to Dick Smith.

"Marj" Wyer wills her ability to whisper in Civics class and yet keep an interested look on her face to any freshman.

"Eddie" Berry wills a portion of his altitude to Lloyd Huffman.

"Junie" Lyons bequeaths her position as Glee Club accompanist to any pianist who will keep her mind entirely on the notes before her.

"Zig-a-Boo" Ziegler bequeaths his clarinet squawking to Robert Reuman.

"Leo" Harley wills her ability to get along "just fine" with Miss Phillips to Helen Webber in hope that it may lead to furthering peace in history classes.

"Lloyd" Scott wills to Leland Lance his ability to get excused the eighth period.

"Reuben" Drogell wills her ability to talk in the seventh period study hall and get away with it to Pearl Skidmore.

"Idis" Medley wills his ability to hold his temper during a basketball game to Boyd Berry.

"Gwen" Lindley and "Pee Wee" Koehler beaqueath to any juniors the privilege of writing the class will.

"Gershy" Gerspacher wills his hammer and saw to Howard Oberholtzer.

To any freshman: "Barby" DeWitt's "jitter blouse", providing she can find room to sew more names on it.

"Bob" Nourse wills to Ebert Weidner his ability to catch all Miss Phillips' winks in history class.

"Marg" Gowe and "Harriet" Watkins will their respective seats in Mr. Kellogg's study halls with all their advantages and disadvantages to any unsuspecting freshman.

"Butch" Koehler wills his office as president of the senior class to any junior.

"Jan" Ganyard wills her collection of pencils without erasers to Mary McFadden to be used in first year typing class.

"Joe" Cain leaves to Ralph Herrington a pair of oil-stained station attendant's gloves.

"Evelyn" Meyers and "Bernie" Kay will their gymnastic feats to Nellie Snyder and Margaret Sharps.

"Chuckles" Leister wills the ability to write six letters a week to one person to Violet Plants providing she has the time.

"June" Sargent wills her pet Underwood typewriter to Virginia Madison because she likes to practice with one finger.

"Ted" Chandler and "Red" McMillan will their ability to come in late each day and escape all penalties to anyone in need of more sleep.

"Connie" Baines confers upon Jean Garnett the task of writing Mr. Duke's superfluous agricultural terms in shorthand.

"Flash" Damon makes a gift of his oratorical negligence during classes to Duane Hand.

"Cookie" Cook offers her art of cooking to Martha Ryan.

"Leland" Kulp wills to Wilbur Kerch the position as "slush-pumper deluxe" in the band.

"Jen" Girman is willing to give her "giggles" to Mary Lou West.

"Rudy" Fodor gives to Gregory Kovach his ability to haunt Bunker Hill.

"Ginnie" Culp presents her cheerful manner to Mr. Claggett.

"Willie" Kramer presents his individual gait to Robert Pritchard.

"Pat" Klein leaves her 80-minute schooldays to anyone who is sufficiently deserving.

"Chancey" Phillips wishes to bestow upon Mr. Fenn the correct pronunciation of anyhow and anyway.

"Ellen" Byard is willing to give her familiarity with Valley City lads to anyone desirous of the same.

"Jack" Medley offers his football paraphernalia to Joe Gibbs providing he is competent to fill his place.

"Sis" Potts wills to Patty Anderson a book of needles with handles.

"Willie" Medley makes a gift of his tap-dancing shoes to Hal Snedden.

"Millie" Ring wills her hustling manners to Marian Barfoot.

"Jim" Sperber wills his capricious "jitter-bugging" to Robert Taylor.

"Eleanor" Theede wills her job of dusting the library to Betty Hostetler.

"Red" Stull wills the honor of acting as chauffeur to and from football games to Frank Struzynsky.

"Tim" Timberlake wills her cheery "Hi" and gay manner to Audrey Schmidt.

"Hitler" Indoe wills his ability to sleep to Larry McGaffney, providing he puts it to the best advantage.

"Katy" Winkler wills her pleasing personality to Dorothy Culler.

"Ted" Hoff wills his "Hiya, Sam" (individual assembly yell) to Dick Seymour.

"Mildred" Jennings and "Abe" Beshire leave their stuttering ways to members of the debate squad.

"Bill" Kovic wills his Democratic arguments to Virginia DeWitt.

"R" Heyduk" beaqueaths to Jeanne Westland the pleasure of "getting around."

"Bud" Potts wishes to leave his athletic ability to any undergraduate who will use it to Medina Hi's advantage.

"Mitzi" Gibbs wills her Scotch plaid skirt to any undergraduate who feels herself Scotchman enough to wear it.

We truly believe that the above bequests are made in accordance with the laws of this school.

In witness whereof, we hereunto subscribe our names this first day of June in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine.

Signed: Senior Class per Gwendolyn Lindley and Walter Koehler.

CLASS PROPHECY

In a bus station in New York City, early on the morning of May 29, 1950, we find Barbara Anderson (nee Heintzleman) about to purchase a ticket to Indianapolis on a new, up-and-coming bus line. She is talking animatedly to Ted Hoff, the ticket agent, who informs her that she will make her trip on the bus that Bill Anderson drives.

"Beep-Beep."

"Yes, Barbara, I think this is your bus. Goodbye!"

* * * * *

"Good-morning, Sister-in-law. Don't tell me you're going away and leave all those hotels for my brother Jim to take care of alone?"

"Why, Bill, this is embarrassing! Didn't Sis tell you that she invited me to stay at your home for a month? You do remember Louise Potts, don't you, Bill?"

"Beep-Beep."

* * * * *

And so the bus left the station and started its journey.

"Bill, see that hospital over there? Everett Leister is a famous surgeon and Patty Dean is his chief nurse."

"Speaking of hospitals, Barbara, reminds me of Thurston Berry. He's in one now and all because he fell off a seven-story building in St. Louis while fixing the roof. He isn't married yet, although he has his eye on Marjorie Wyer. She's private secretary to a big insurance executive here in New York."

"By the way, Bill, whatever happened to Barbara De Witt and Miriam Gibbs?"

"Why, they're airplane hostesses on the London-New York air-lines. Did you know that William C. Anderson, Bruce Hallock, and Fred Koehler own their own airplane factory over in New Jersey? Vernon Damon is their maintenance engineer."

"Look, Bill! That billboard over there! That's a picture of Medley's trio! They were at the Palace last week harmonizing with the echo of the Mills' Brothers. You knew, didn't you, that next week Leland Kulp's band, with Connie Baines as singer, is scheduled for the Palace and that the week after that Mary Maitland and Mildred Leyda are to do their acrobatic routine? Quite an all-star run they're having!"

"Would you like the radio on now, Barbara? It's time for Eileen Seymour's talk on women's styles, followed by Leoma Harley's program, "Shadows of Emily Post."

"Watch out!! Oh, that truck almost hit us!"

"Whew! Yes, that's one of Ralph Hoddinott, Rudy Fodor, and Ted Chandler's trucks. They have quite a pickle business."

"We're just about to arrive at Niagara Falls, Barbara. We have a five-minute stop there. You'll probably be surprised when you see the confectionery store. It's the most spacious one in the state and you'll never guess who owns it. None other than Lloyd Scott and Bob Nourse."

"Look, Bill! A car with a "Just Married" sign. I do believe—yes, it is! Jane Madison and David Root. So at last they've taken the fatal step!"

"Too bad we can't stop here in Buffalo for awhile, Barbara. We could say "hello" to Norma Jeanne Clark who's teaching history. Evelyn Brasch is teaching here, too, and Dale Grim is the athletic instructor at the same school.

"What? You want a newspaper? Get a "Daily Times". Gordon Phillips owns it. Walter Koehler is the editor, and Bill Kramer is circulation manager."

"Bill, it says here that June Lyons' horse, "Berry Boy," just won another big race. Isn't that something?"

"By the way, Barbara, you ought to take a lot of pictures on this trip."

"I'll have to stop somewhere and get some film. Have you any suggestions, Bill?"

"That's simple. Almost every city has one of Bill Brown, Stewart Hach, and Jim Sperber's Photographic Supply Stores in it."

"Don't let me forget to take some pictures of Greg Blakeslee's farm and indoor skating rink. Gwen Lindley is skating instructor there, you know."

"Are you hungry, Barbara? We have a fifteen-minute stop in a couple of miles at one of Evelyn Meyers, Margaret Gowe, and Harriet Watkins' hamburger stands."

"Oh good! Do you suppose any of the girls will be there?"

"No. They run the business from a big office in New York."

A few hours later the bus came into the outskirts of Cleveland. The large Sargent-Longacre Furniture Store was doing an excellent business. People come from all over this part of the country to get "The Best For Less."

NOVEMBER 30	No accident this time. Benefit show for annual is given. The title, "Little Red Schoolhouse."
DECEMBER 2	First basketball game here. Berea boys' team 24-16. Girls' varsity beats Alumnae.
DECEMBER 7	Seniors enjoy their class party (Juniors hope!)
DECEMBER 9	Boys lose to Wooster there 20-37. Girls tie Republic 24-24.
DECEMBER 14	Seniors find out the juniors can have one of the best parties ever.
DECEMBER 16	Orchestra plays in assembly and has a hard time getting tuned! Boys' team loses to Amherst here 22-37. Girls defeat Bellevue here 17-8.
DECEMBER 20	Sophomores hold jitterbug party (and they really are!).
DECEMBER 21	More basketball. Boys lose to Alumni 29-8, girls to Republic 15-23.
DECEMBER 22	Christmas edition of Spilled Ink—it won't be long now until the happy day. Girl Reserves and members of Hi-Y have gay time at party.

Next we saw the Kovic Brothers' (Cecil and William) studio. Their latest undertaking is painting murals in Cleveland's City Hall.

Two blocks from the Kovic's studio we came to a huge wholesale house. Upon close scrutiny we saw that this was owned by Arlene Heyduk and Richard Ziegler.

"Say, Barbara, when I have lots of time, remind me to explain Elton Beery and Alfred Bartholomay's theory of trajectory. It adds to this—Beery jumps out of an airplane in a parachute and Bartholomay follows right behind trying to chart his course."

"Sounds intricate! By the way, Bill, did you know that Cleveland is now the home of Alyce Perrin and Virginia Culp? They're away now, however. Missionaries in China, I'm told."

The bus was leaving Cleveland by this time and Bill spoke up once more.

"Speaking of theories, perhaps you knew that Bob Indoe, another member of Medina's old physics class, is in Europe trying to sink the British Isles and prove that the law of buoyancy is a fallacy."

"No, I hadn't heard. When are you due back in New York, Bill?"

"In about three days. I want to get there in time for Elnor Snedden's yearly recital. Being one of the family, I'm always given free tickets. Sometimes I wonder if it's worth it when I have to listen to LaVerne Kay play the violin."

"Did you see that picture of Fern Stevens, Evelyn Wilcox and Evelyn Timberlake in the paper the other day? They're in Australia teaching the inhabitants how to do the Australian Crawl."

"Your mentioning that trio reminds me of Mildred Ring and Kenneth Ream. They're married and financing a diamond mine in South Africa."

"There's the smoke of Chicago ahead, Barb. Had you heard that Richard Beard and Norman Gerspacker are mining engineers trying to strike oil at the Arctic Circle?"

"Look, Bill! Isn't that Betty and George McMillan's ice factory? She was Betty Miller, you know. Medina has certainly lent its representatives to Chicago's leading business. There's Steingass' Meat-Packing House. "Meat of all ages" is their slogan." Mrs. Steingass was Catherine Mellert, you know.

"Speaking of big business, that building on the right is Jeannette Ganyard, Ruby Drogell, and Jennie Girman's lunch box corporation."

"Well, you'd better take a last look, Barb, for we've talked ourselves right out of Chicago."

And so the bus rolled along towards Indianapolis where Eleanor Theede, Theresa Klein, and Kathryn Winkler have their famous beauty salon.

"But, Bill, there is one thing I've been meaning to ask you. Have you read the last bulletin issued by Susan Kraus and Mildred Jennings? They're on a tour of Europe."

"No, I never seem to have time. I'm no good at one-armed driving so I guess I can't read while on duty."

The bus nearly ended the life of an innocent young turkey who was preening his feathers in the middle of the road. This reminded Barbara to ask where Wilma Cook was.

"Why Wilma's in Florida with Ellen Byard running a summer resort."

"Barbara, I hope you'll stay with us long enough to see the Indianapolis speedway and some races in which Henry Stahl and John Socha are the favorites.

"Did Louise tell you that her brother was at the house for a week?"

"Why, yes, Bill, that's right. Lester Potts and Leonard Cain are the Senators from Ohio."

"Those brick buildings in the distance belong to the college founded by Florence Hitzelberger. It's just a fifteen-minute drive from Indianapolis. After we round this next bend you'll see your home for the next month. I'll drop you off and you can tell Louise not to wait dinner for me. I'll take a taxi out from the bus station."

HIGH SCHOOL CALENDAR

DECEMBER 24	Christmas vacation has come at last!
JANUARY 3	Too Bad! Back to school.
JANUARY 4	Debate team competes at Orrville and does very well.
JANUARY 6	More gaiety—freshmen hold a class party. Boys defeat Vermilion there 22-18. Girls defeat Willard 17-23.
JANUARY 7	Boys lose to Rocky River here 24-28.
JANUARY 10	F. F. A. boys visit Sanborn Hatchery. Traveling again!
JANUARY 13	Men of the faculty show off their good voices in assembly. Girls win from Upper Sandusky 24-1. Boys lose to Clearview 29-41.
JANUARY 18	Woe is us! Exams begin.
JANUARY 19	Exams!
JANUARY 20	Exams!.. (Will they never end?) Girls defeat Alumnae 20-13. New London beats Medina by one basket scored in last second 23-25.
JANUARY 23	Noon activities: ping-pong, badminton, etc., begin. (So does the new semester.)
JANUARY 27	Assembly—orchestra plays—farewell to Miss Cooper. Girls tie Lykens School there 11-11.
JANUARY 28	Surprise! Boys defeat Wellington here. Girls beat an Akron team 43-5.
FEBRUARY 2	F. F. A. boys go to Ohio State University.
FEBRUARY 3	Girls show up Willard here by defeating them 26-12. Boys beat Vermilion 17-9.
FEBRUARY 4	The F. F. A. boys (still very active) go to Akron.
FEBRUARY 6	We vote for the most popular girl and boy.
